451 WEST 54TH STREET, NEW YORK, NEW YORK 10019

The Richard Avedon Foundation, as international copyright holder of Avedon photographs, permits the following image to be reproduced in promotion of the Avedon exhibition at Fondation Henri Cartier-Bresson on view from the period of May 28, 2025 through October 12, 2025. The approved uses include both press bank as well as internal signage. For all printed materials (excluding press bank and 3rd party press use) the Foundation requires approval of a hard-copy proof made on the same paper, with the same ink, using the same process as the final product.

Permission to reproduce the following images is contingent upon the following:

Images may not be cropped or manipulated in any way.

Images must maintain their original black border (if included in the file).

No text may appear over any part of the photographs (including the white background).

The appropriate caption, credit, and copyright information must be published in entirety with each reproduction:

Please let your production team know that the image should achieve black saturation at anywhere from 96% to 98% gray.

Please make sure that the white of the background looks white when it is reproduced on your paper. Also, the black border should be solid black. Please feel free, if needed, to adjust the curve on the provided digital file to account for that.
